Discovering a Faith of My Own

"I realized I couldn't live on my family's faith forever."

There is a difference between knowing about God and truly knowing Him.

I grew up in a Christian family. My parents loved God, worked hard, and taught me the importance of forgiveness, responsibility, and serving others. From the outside, it looked like I had everything I needed.

But there came a point when I realized something was missing.

A Personal Faith

I knew about God because of my family, but I had never truly come to know Him for myself. I spent more time with friends than with God. Outwardly my life seemed fine, but inwardly I struggled with worry, confusion, and an emptiness I couldn't explain.

When life became difficult, I began praying again. God did not answer with a voice from heaven. He answered through His Word, through people He placed in my life, and through a growing peace in my heart.

One day I made a decision that changed everything. I did not want to be a Christian simply because my family was Christian. I wanted a personal relationship with Jesus.

God Was Shaping My Life

Coming to Lanna Theological Center became one of the most important steps in that journey. God used my years at LTC not only to deepen my understanding of Scripture, but also to strengthen my faith, shape my character, and teach me to depend on Him every day. There were times when I wanted to quit, but each time God reminded me that He was still at work in my life.

My faith is no longer simply my family's story.
It has become my own.

Looking Ahead

Today I have the privilege of serving my church by leading worship, teaching children, and helping wherever I am needed. After graduation, I hope to partner with an LTC graduate and his wife as they plant a new church. My desire is to help others discover the same personal relationship with Christ that transformed my own life.

Please Pray for Kitty

- Pray that Kitty will continue to grow in her personal walk with Christ.
- Pray that God will prepare her for ministry as she serves alongside a church-planting team.
- Pray that God will use her gifts in worship, children's ministry, and discipleship to strengthen His Church.
- Pray that many young people who have grown up around Christianity will come to know Christ personally, just as Kitty has.
